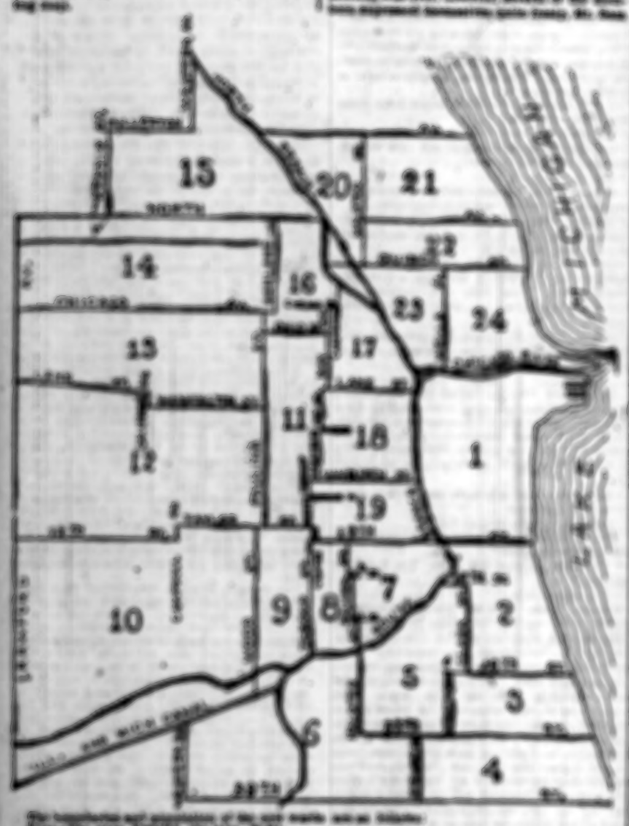
NEW WARD BOUNDARIES.

[illegible] WRANGLE OVER A FLAT TENEMENT AND COUNCIL.

How the Old Aldermanic Opponents of the Wheeler Idea and Champions of the Original Plan—What the Changes Are and How the Aldermen Are Grouped—Mr. Colvin and Mr. Kreuzberg Demand to See Wheeler's Plan Through.

The Council in its meeting last night took up as a special order the scheme for a readjustment of ward boundaries, to form twenty-four wards. The plan that was to come up was one that has been so frequently tossed in the Council, but which has had few days all Wheeler-pilot by Ald. Colvin, who was dissatisfied with a plan that gave him to mix Webber and Sawyer, get together and evolved on a scheme which was presented last night, found to be satisfactory to nearly all the aldermen, and whether introduced the substitute, which was read by the Clerk in spite of Arthur Dixon's protest that the whole business was out of order. The substitute makes sweeping changes in the original scheme, as will be seen by reference to the accompanying map.



Gen. Cassell said that the original plan he said, and the Clerk assumed the attitude of reading the same. He then moved that Fourteenth street be made the south boundary of the First Ward. Ald. Wheeler moved that the plan be substituted for the original proposition. Wallenstedt, Bonfield of order for the reason that the motion to divide and that each ward [illegible] a consolidated city assembly. Dixon claimed that a substitute [illegible] for an unadopted until all amendments were disposed. This was ruled to be correct, and Ald. Gunther offered another amendment that Sixteenth street be the south boundary of the First Ward. Wheeler accepted the amendment, and Bonfield, durnit the previous question, which was carried by a large majority. Wallenstedt insisted that the vote should be divided. The vote was a motion to divide, being that the [illegible] of Fourteenth street, Madison street and that be lost or stay in the position brought by Council and would perhaps a motion to divide the question after the vote stood by the previous question. Dixon, Gunther, Colvin, Bonfield and Kreuzberg voted to sustain the chair. Those voting in the negative were Cassell, Wheeler, Sawyer, Webber and Beidler. Mayor Roche decided that the Mayor's sustain a motion to adjourn. Wheeler moved that the Council proceed to the consideration of the Fourth Ward. Ald. Colvin moved to lay the motion on the table, but this was voted down by the Council, and Kreuzberg moved to the south boundary

RANCH KINGS IN COUNCIL.

THE CENTURY MAGAZINE.

ITS PROGRAMME FOR 1887-8—A BRILLIANT YEAR.
THE SIBERIAN PAPERS—"LINCOLN IN THE WAR"—
CIRCULATION A QUARTER OF A MILLION—
THE NOVEMBER NUMBER.

From its first issue in 1870 The Century has never ceased to grow,—to multiply its attractions, and to gather together the best that writers, artists, and engravers could furnish, and lay this, month by month, before a constantly increasing audience. A prominent newspaper has lately said of The Century that "it is doing more than any other private agency of today to teach the American people the true meaning of the words 'culture and refinement.' It is a great magazine, and it is doing a great work." Its average monthly edition is now nearly 250,000, many issues needing only that number to supply the demand.

The November Number,

ready everywhere November 1st, is the first issue of the new volume. One of the great features of The Century for the past year (and one which has added thousands of readers) has been "Abraham Lincoln: A History," by his private secretaries, Messrs. Nicolay and Hay, a work upon which they have been engaged nearly twenty years. The events of Mr. Lincoln's early life having been surveyed,—his political conflicts, etc., the writers now enter upon a more important and personal part of their narrative and begin

"Lincoln in the War."

The November Century contains "The Postponement at Springfield" with new material of rare interest, including unpublished letters from and to General Scott, W. H. Seward, Horace Greeley, and Thurlow Weed.

After the "War Series" and the Lincoln History, the most important enterprise ever undertaken by The Century is the forthcoming series of illustrated papers on Siberia.

Siberia, and the Exile System.

By George Kennan, author of Tent Life in Siberia, who has just returned from an arduous journey of 15,000 miles through Russia and Siberia, during which, by means of especially favorable letters from Russian officials and a knowledge of the language, he was enabled to visit every important prison in Siberia and to make the acquaintance of more than 500 exiled Liberals and "Nihilists." Graphic features of exile life, "hunger strikes," the "Nihilist" in torture, the "Nihilist alphabet," etc., etc., will be described, and the illustrations, by Mr. George A. Frost, who accompanied Mr. Kennan throughout his journey, will add interest to this remarkable series. It will begin with four preliminary papers on the Russian revolutionary movement, the first one of which, "The Last Appeal of the Russian Liberals," is in November. New and striking facts are here told for the first time.

Important Supplementary War Papers.

November contains the last of the papers by distinguished Generals—"Grant's Last Campaign," and the conclusion of Appomattox, by General Horace Porter, a vivid and touching description of this historic event.

These War Papers have probably brought to The Century more readers than were ever attracted by one feature in the history of magazines. It was for this series that General Grant was first induced to write his reminiscences. A number of supplementary papers, of a general and entertaining character, are to follow the "battle series," to include a paper by General Sherman on "The Grand Strategy of the War," with narratives of personal adventure,—the rescuing from Libby Prison,—the torpedo service, the scrapbook, etc., etc. The Lincoln History will contain much that is unique now regarding the conduct of the Civil War.

Fiction by Eggleston and Cable.

Two important stories begin in this November number,—"The Graysons, a Story of Illinois," a novel by Edward Eggleston, author of "The Hoosier Schoolmaster," etc.; and "As Large," a three-part story of Acadian life, by George W. Cable, author of "Old Creole Days," etc. Both are illustrated. In December will begin

A Three-Part Story by Frank R. Stockton, entitled "The Dusantes," by the author of "Rudder Grange," "The Hundredth Man," etc., etc. There will be a great variety of short stories by the best authors, throughout the coming year, many of them illustrated. "A Little Dissent," by William Henry Bishop, is in November.

The Illustrated Features of the November Century include "The Home and Haunts of Washington," with an interesting fourteenth portrait of Washington, never before engraved; "Augustus St. Gaudens,"—a paper descriptive of the Cornish sculptor's work, beautifully illustrated with engravings, including a full-page picture of St. Gaudens's new statue of Lincoln for Chicago; "Sugar-Making in Louisiana," with 13 striking pictures by Kemble, etc., etc.

Miscellaneous Features of the year just beginning will include occasional articles bearing upon the subjects treated in the current International Sunday-School Lessons, illustrated with reproductions of Mr. Edward L. Wilson's interesting photographs; a series of papers on Ireland, its Situation, Current Town Life, Literature, and Art, by Charles Dudley Warner, illustrated by J. W. Alexander; papers by Theodore Roosevelt, author of "Hunting Trips of a Ranchman," portraying the wild industries and sports of the Far West, illustrated by Frederick Remington; further important papers dealing with the Colonial Period, by Dr. Eggleston; Mrs. van Rensselaer's paper on English Cathedrals, with Mr. Pennell's remarkable illustrations; Dr. Parkhurst's timely series on Dreams, Presentiments, Spiritualism, etc., together with essays on Religious, Educational, Artistic, and other subjects of the day. The Century for the coming year will devote more space than ever to Musical Subjects.

The Editorial Departments of The Century, treating political, social, and household matters, giving literary and art criticism, and detailing the progress of thought and invention, have been a great element in its success. These topics are discussed of vital interest in connection with the life of the Nation.

The Century costs $4.00 a year, 35 cents a number—twelve monthly numbers of the finest (and 1,500,000 words) with from fifty to one hundred pictures. Begin with November. All booksellers, newsdealers, and Postmasters take subscriptions. Send for our illustrated catalogue, containing full prospectus, etc., with special offer of back numbers of the Lincoln history at a low price. The Century Co., 33 East 17th Street, New York.
